The Conservation Advisory Council (CAC) continues to have the concerns expressed in the previous documents (April 4 and April 7) The site-walk did not alleviate the concerns and with the additional possibility of blasting, added a new concern.

Recent input from members of the Elmwood Road community including photos that show high water levels on the property, raise significant concerns and questions about the impact on the stream water quality including Scott's Reservoir and the need for sign off from the Army Corps of Engineers

The CAC would like to see detailed wetland mitigation plans, storm water pollution control plans as well as the opinion of the Army Corps of Engineers.
